Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Robert Vose and His Times Robert Vose was born in Lancashire, England, about 1599. He was a resident there in 1650, though the statement has many times appeared that he came to America in 1635 with Richard Mather. The first appearance of his name in New England was in 1654, when he purchased from the heirs of the worshipful Mr. John Glover of Boston, for the sum of three hundred and fowre score pounds sterl, over 500 acres of land in that part of Dorchester called Unquatiquisset or Unquity, which, in 1662, was incorporated in the town of Milton. The obligation was dated 13 July, 1654. He was at that time a gentleman of Dorchester, so had been in New England long enough to establish a residence, but the exact time of his arrival is unknown. He was the youngest son of Thomas Vose of Lancashire; apparently a man of ability and influence, and belonged to the period which witnessed the struggles of the Reformation. The Puritanism of Lancashire was confined largely to the southern part. A group of Puritans had sprung up in and about Toxteth Park near Liverpool, and Richard Mather, when only a boy, taught their children. Mather was won over to Puritanism and in preparation for the ministry entered Brasenose college, Oxford, but before he completed his course his friends induced him to become their minister at Toxteth chapel. As this ancient chapel was considered in some respects private property and was not only retained by nonconforming ministers after the passing of the Act of Uniformity, but was licensed under the Act of Toleration as a preaching place for dissenters, Richard...
